*"We don't inherit land from our parents;
we borrow it from our children."
~Lakota Proverb*

If you enjoyed your experience, please consider making a contribution or becoming a member by talking to the Naturalist at the Visitor Center.

Enjoy our 40-acre site which features unusual habitat diversity, including wet and dry meadows, two ponds, wet and dry woodlands, dense thickets, an old orchard, and a cattail marsh. Walk along two miles of trails and two observation towers which overlook the wetlands and cattail marsh. The property has both developed and undeveloped areas, offering a variety of horticultural experiences for the visitors.
