At the New Canaan Nature Center, the safety of each child is our highest priority. We take all reasonable precautions to ensure your child’s physical and emotional safety and to provide a quality learning experience that focuses on fun, safety and character development. As in any other experience, we cannot eliminate all risk from our programs. By signing the following statements you will be acknowledging that you understand the risks of attending this program, and assume liability for your child’s participation.

Acknowledgement of Risk

I understand that the program primarily takes place outdoors in forest, field and wetland terrain that can be rocky and swampy and near large and small bodies of water. I understand that at times during the program my child will be in an area away from our facilities. The following potentially dangerous activities, as well as others not mentioned, may be undertaken: log/tree climbing, vernal pool traversing, camping, canoeing, building natural shelters, hiking, kayaking, wading in knee high water, cooking, fire building, and use of tools. In addition, the participant may encounter mosquito bites, insect stings, ticks, and other outdoor hazards. These activities and events can cause personal injury, property damage, illness or death. I further acknowledge that the child listed above is qualified, in good health, in proper physical condition to participate in such activity and willingly agree to comply with the stated and customary terms and conditions of participation. I further agree and warrant that if at any time, I believe conditions to be unsafe, I will immediately discontinue further participation of the child in the activity.
